CELEBRATE WOMEN

Created w/ love + prosperity vibes for you by Founder of FemCity® Violette de Ayala

IN ORDER TO CELEBRATE WOMEN, WE MUST CELEBRATE OURSELVES:

- What do you love most about yourself?
- What component of you makes the world brighter?
- What is a trait of yours that was once "not the best" but now is "one of your greatest"?

LET'S CREATE A PLAN TO CELEBRATE WOMEN:

- Who are 3 women you'd love to celebrate that helped you on your journey?
- What are ways you can honor other women on social media?
- What are three introductions you can make today to connect women to one another?
- In thinking of writing Google reviews, which three women come to mind?
- Who are 3 women you would like to take a moment for and send them a little love note or letter of appreciation?

HOMEWORK: We see the world as we see ourselves when we see the greatness in other women, we see the greatness within ourselves. It's all connected as we are all connected. Above are just a few ways to get moving in celebrating women. But imagine a world where we all took 1 hour a week to spend time celebrating one another. Wouldn't we be in a great place in this world? Wouldn't our unity increase and our energy connect further in empowerment? That's the point. Go on and celebrate you and the women in your life.

Where there is love, there is abundance.
